Clahischo

Volume XI
Published by Senior Class 1958
CLAYTON HIGH SCHOOL
Clayton, North Carolina

I would like to express my most grateful appreciation to my wonderful student workers and sponsor who have put forth their best to make it possible for us to have such a great memorial of our high school days. My work alone could never have produced such a great yearbook as this one. Also the faculty and principal have understood and helped us to complete the 1958 Clahischo.

In behalf of the entire staff, I would like to leave with all the upcoming seniors, this edition of the Clahischo to serve as a challenge for their senior year.

I hope you will enjoy this Clahischo as much as we have enjoyed publishing it. It has been difficult, but very interesting, entertaining, and quite rewarding. This annual was ours for almost a year. Now it belongs to you.

Faye Sneed

Editor - in - Chief

Dedication

Her greatest challenge is to fill life's great capacity to the utmost and to do it well.

Because you have given us your time so unselfishly and so willingly, we are grateful to you our friend and teacher. With your warm sense of humor and your wit, you have made our classes more pleasant. As we would enter your classroom, we could sense an atmosphere of friendliness and concern. We shall never forget your devotedness in helping us to accomplish this year at CHS. As an expression of our appreciation, we, the Seniors, dedicate to you, Mrs. Elizabeth Frances Ownby Aiken, this eleventh volume of the CLAHISCHO.

She arrives promptly to begin her daily duties as those of a school teacher.

Editor, Faye Snead and Associate Editor, Helen Allen compute the cost of the yearbook.

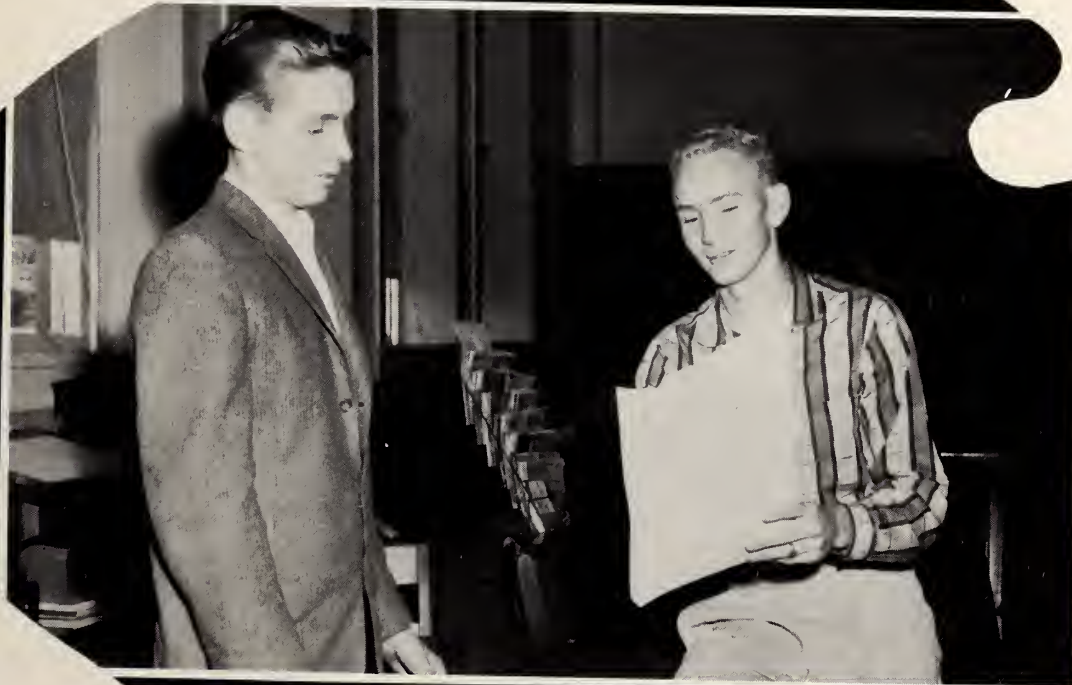

Clahischo sponsor, Miss Alyce Sumrell, must check all the dummy sheets before the actual book gets underway

Staff

A careful record means all goes well is a good motto for the Business Manager, Ronald Jones and his Assistant, Betty Godwin.

The Art Editors, Elton Ellis and Jackie Talton, contributed much to the success of the '58 Clahischo.

"Memories are made of this" is expressed by Bucky Butler, Sports Editor, as he outlines the sports section.

Linda Pittman, Feature Editor, planned the many features that are an asset to this book.

The Photography Manager, Norwood Snead aided the photographer in many ways.

Parent-Teacher Association

This Parents Teachers organization does much to promote an understanding between the teacher and parents. Both parents and teachers work together for the benefits of our school. This year one of their most successful projects was that of sponsoring a barbecue supper. The proceeds went toward the purchase of an activity bus. The officers are as follows: President, Bill Massey; Vice President, W. C. Reams; Treasurer, Thomas Lipscomb; Secretary, Mrs. Wilson Champion.

President Bill Massey conducts meeting on regular P. T. A. night.

School Board

These men with untiring and unselfish devotion have helped to make our school a better one. Through their efforts our school plans and the equipment have met the needs of our students. They have approached every problem with open minds and served their community well. Uppermost has been the thought: What can we do to better educate our boys and girls - the citizens of tomorrow? A. H. Adams, T. R. Lee, W. C. Warrick, M. W. Knott, Chairman; J. O. Waters, Principal; J. T. Talton, Jr.

E. S. SIMPSON
B. A., M. Ed.
County Superintendent

We believe that Mr. Simpson has proved to be a most outstanding administrator in his many and various duties as superintendent. To him we are grateful for his interest, concern, and his efficient leadership - all of which have been indirectly responsible for many opportunities we have had during our high school days.

J. O. WATERS
B. S., M. A.
Principal

Throughout our four years in high school, Mr. Waters has been more than just a principal to us. He has always helped us to solve the problems that confronted us as Seniors. We hold great respect for this wonderful friend who rendered innumerable services, not only to us, but to everyone. We can truly say that he is a man greatly admired. Because of his integrity, perseverance, and consideration of others we shall always remember him as a great teacher, principal and friend.

Life

This — Our Classes — We Call Life — the heart of our school. To the classes each day we go — inspired to a higher level; seeking knowledge which will in years to come bring the satisfaction of a fuller and more meaningful Life. Our classmates are the ones who help us learn the meaning of *working together — cooperating — succeeding; our teachers guide us in reaching our highest aspiration — giving us the courage and strength to go forward always no matter how difficult the task ahead. These — our teachers, our classmates, our classes — are the Life of

Through many different ways and means the Senior Class of '58 has had various projects to help pay the expenses of their trip to New York. As a custom of past seniors, this trip takes place at the end of the twelfth year after all studying and learning have been put in the past. This trip means a lot to each senior because it will be the last time that everyone will be together as a whole group. On the diagram on this page we, the seniors of '58, are going to tell you in pictures, the story of how we raised the money to go on our trip to New York.

Liberty

These hours from classes give us a Liberty — not in the sense of that fought for and won by our ancestors — but Liberty of mind, of physical activity. Liberty at Clayton High School means scoring a touchdown, stripping a net, batting a homerun, or winning a race. These moments permit the students freedom from textbooks, classroom scenery, and, to some extent, disciplinary instruction. Time spent in the gymnasium, on the football field, on the cinder track, and on the baseball diamond is time used to develop healthy citizens, good sportsmen, and better leaders of tomorrow. Through Liberty we find even a greater meaningfulness to each day at Clayton High School.

Room representatives meet with president and sponsor to work out the objectives for 1957-58.

Council

Mr. Waters, Sponsor, and Walter Benson, President, discuss solutions for new problems.

The Student Council is one of the most important organizations of our school. The council strives to promote cooperation among the students in achieving high standards of scholarship and good sportsmanship in all school activities. The council is made of room representatives and officers who plan various school functions throughout the year.

Will Lead Tomorrow

President Walter Benson talks with Freshmen pointing out the goals and standards of our school. This part of the orientation program helps to promote a better understanding between the lower classmen and higher classmen.

Walter Benson, Lewis Gower, and Harold Jones are decorating for dance.

The Beta Club is a non-secret, achievement-service organization for students of senior high schools. Its purpose is the promotion of honesty, service and leadership. The Beta Club seeks to promote the ideals of American Democracy among its members.

Its motto is "Let us lead by serving others." Requirements for membership are: a 92 average, good character, commendable attitude, and creditable achievement. The projects are: assisting the principal, keeping the library, caring and cleaning of school property, and being able leaders and helpers to those students who need our guidance.

Take Time to Think

Sponsor, Miss Sarah Richardson; President, Faye Snead; Vice President, Helen Allen; Secretary, Jean Byrd (not shown); Treasurer, Ronald Jones; Reporter, Bucky Butler, and a fellow Beta, put up signs in gymnasium urging students to show always good sportsmanship, character, and leadership everywhere at all times.

Club

Beta members assist in helping to clean and beautify the library.

Ronald Jones and Bucky Butler aid Freshmen who are trying to locate certain historical data.

It Is the Source of Power

Helen Allen and Faye Snead talk to fellow Betas at the State Beta Club Convention in Asheville.

Betas convene for planning year's objectives.

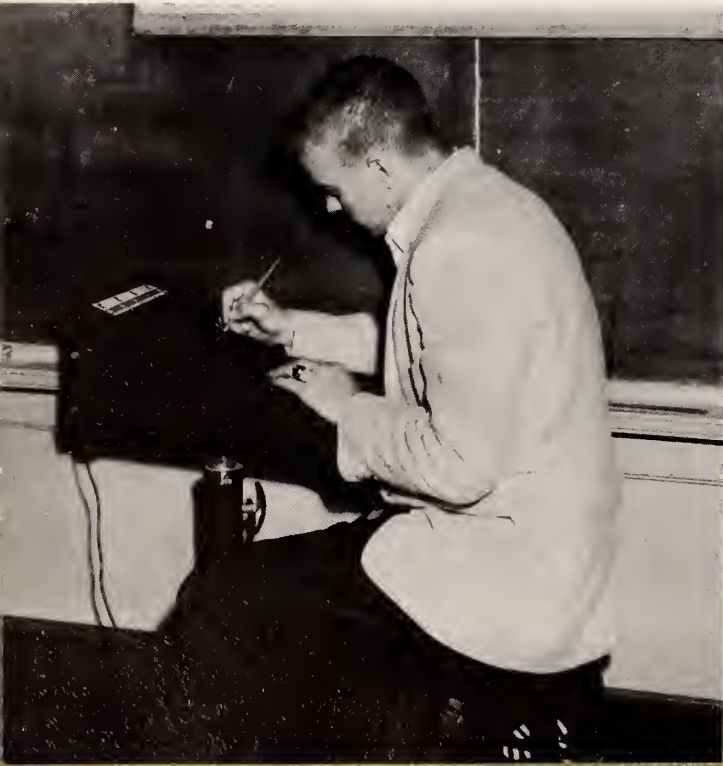

The Hi-Lites is published every six weeks by the second year typing class. The copies, which sell for five cents each, and the advertisements help pay for the expense of the paper.

Great Is Man's

The art editor, Ronald Jones, draws the cover for the October edition.

Pat Faison and Waylon Spence inspect a sheet as it comes from the mimeograph machine.

Staff

The editor, Betty Godwin, and the assistant editor, Jean Byrd, prepare the dummy copy.

After each sheet is in place, the paper is stapled by Neil Smith.

Freedom of the Press.

When the copies are complete, they are distributed to the students.

Mrs. Aikens, the sponsor, explains to some of the staff how to type stencils for the paper.

group made up of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth graders, who through their sincere and devoted efforts have earned a letter in one or more of the following sports or activities: football, basketball, baseball, track, or as a cheerleader. This group of united athletes serve their club, their school, and their country through unselfish acts and deeds. By participating in athletics, by operating the concession stand, and by helping to maintain equipment, the members succeed in serving their school and their club.

A victory depends on school spirit.

Two grid stars demonstrate the correct method of tackling.

The success of an organization depends on its members' services.

Booster's Club

Raymond Earl Hardee, President; Judson Whitley, Vice President; Paul Keller, Treasurer; Herbert Hocutt, Reporter.

The Boosters Club is an aid in securing funds for the Athletic Association. Each member strives to support the athletic program carried on in our school. A highlight of the year is the annual Football Banquet.

Future Teachers

F. T. A. Emblem

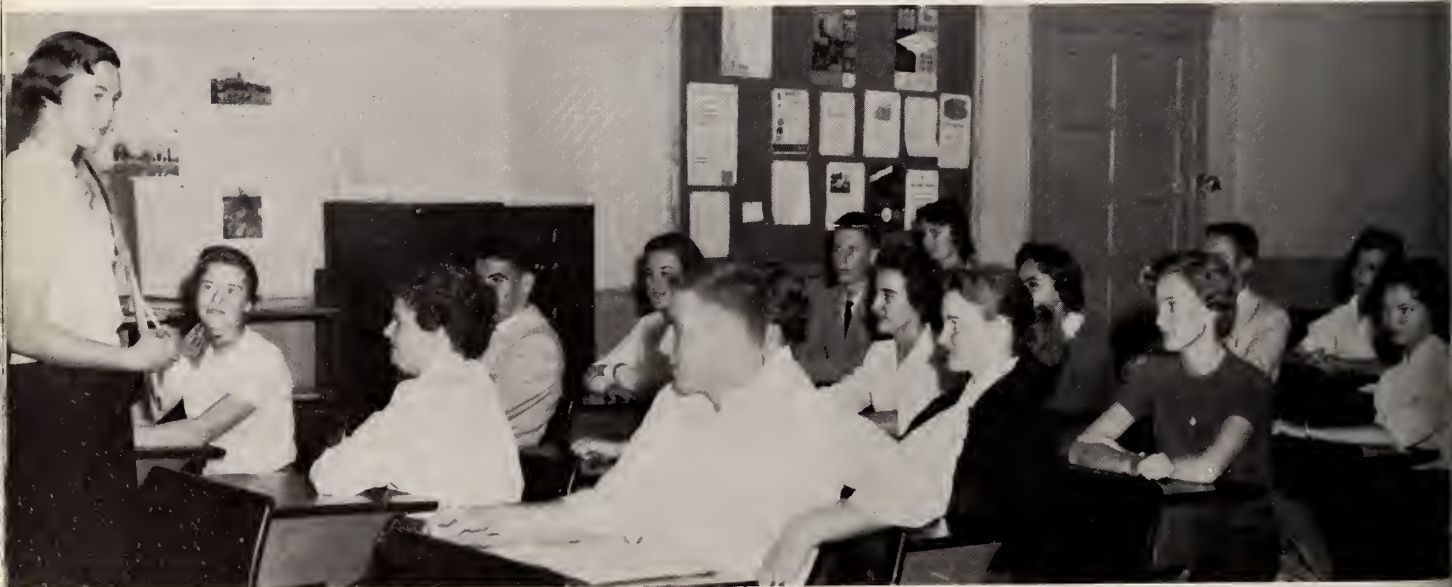

The Future Teachers Club is a national organization and is based upon a most important fact: That the future of mankind is in the youth of today. The aim of this club is to encourage students to enter the teaching profession. Each year the members have projects that prove very informative. Through this club many young people have chosen to enter a profession that is so worthy of honor - teaching.

Sponsor, MISS ALYCE SUMRELL

The officers who have contributed so much to the club are: Helen Allen, President; Annie Clyde Youngblood, Vice President; Patricia Dean, Secretary; Faye Massengill, Treasurer; Mary Ann Turner and Faye Snead, Librarians.

The club meets twice a month during the thirty minute activity period. Here the members listen to the president, Helen Allen, as she explains about a poster used during American Education Week.

Club of America

The F. T. A. Club members honor Mrs. Janey Gulley for whom the club is named.

Each year the F. T. A. sponsors the World Peace Speaking Contest in March. Here are some of the boys and girls who participate.

Three of the club members receive some helpful hints of teaching children from Mrs. Bell. All members must observe teaching.

Mr. John Mayo, the mayor, speaks to the student body about the importance of an education.

Washing dishes is fun as demonstrated by Annie Clyde Youngblood, Patricia Dean, and Pat Faison.

Three FHA members - Linda Jones, Betty Beard, Cecilia Dixon - prepare a bulletin board on latest styles.

As Through His Stomach

Gwenda Cobb and Patsy Wall await with anxiety for the cake they are placing in oven.

4-H members help to beautify school campus.

To Make the

Senior 4-H officers - Edward Renfrow, Sylvia Snead, Walter Benson, Patricia Dean, J. W. Nickols, Wallace Holloway, Wade Holloway, and Katherine Harrelson - discuss plans for the 1957-58 4-H year.

4 Club

Edward Renfrow, J. W. Nichols and Percy Lee, senior class 4-H members, find their work of feeding white Leghorns a thrilling experience in 4-H activities.

Best Better

4-H girls, Rebecca Sealey, Mary Ann Turner and Cornelia Johnson, their project work in supplying the freezer with fruits and vegetables proves to be a very helpful and interesting project.

As these boys, Percy Lee, Wendell Norris and Walter Benson, prepare a strawberry bed, they enjoy cooperation of working and planning their projects in 4-H.

Mr. Sorrell demonstrates the use of the planer to several of his students.

After completing his project the student pays Mr. Sorrell, the instructor.

One to grow on . . .

Good health is our business. We take a deep personal pride in watching the growth and development of youngsters raised on Pine State's good, health-giving milk and dairy foods. We feel great satisfaction in the knowledge that we contribute to the growth of the community as we do to the growth of its citizens.

We're proud of the fact that we're growing, too . . . that more and more families are asking for Pine State's pure, delicious milk, ice cream and other fine dairy foods.
